

Dunn Roaming?

by John Thornton received 1-11-19

What is this that I have read,
Entitled Thornton's Inns,
Another piece from Harry,
Hoping for some grins?,

Yes I am a traveller,
Who's lived in many places,
Coming to "Orstralia",
With numerous suitcases,

But what about our Harry,
Has he done some roaming?,
Or has he chose to stay put,
For Inverloch's beach combing,

What about it Harry,
Have you travelled far,
Have you dared to venture,
In your vintage car?,

Perhaps a trip to Blighty,
Might suit you to a 'T',
To visit Thornton's Inn there,
That pub named after me,

You'll find it is quite cosy,
With pork pies there to eat,
Warm pints of beer aplenty,
A fire to warm your feet,

Ah yes my dear old Harry,
Travel is the thing,
I've outlined mine in verses,
Are you just Dunn roaming?